TECHNOLOGY

advanced handheld and wearable tools | essential add ons | full sized professional technology

Technology is advancing at lightning speed in the world, and the skin care industry is no different. Forward thinking skin therapists are reinventing their facial treatments with the use of high performance technologies, and breaking out of the confines of the traditional treatment room with a new generation of lightweight battery powered handheld tools that deliver exceptional results in almost any environment. As a skin therapist myself, I don't think there has ever been a more exciting time to be part of this industry, and I am so proud of how Bio-Therapeutic's innovative approach to technology has helped empower our skin therapists of the future with the performance, agility and superb quality for which we've been known for almost fifty years.

We're also very proud to be an FDA registered medical device manufacturer with ISO 9001, ISO 13485 and CE certifications. We design and assemble every piece of equipment in our Seattle, Washington headquarters. We know that the success of your business is quite literally in your hands, and we are unwavering in our commitment to always equip you with the very best so that you're able to exceed your clients' expectations, service after service.

Our tagline is "technology accelerated skin care," and you'll not find a better partner for delivering superb hands-on results anywhere else. Our comprehensive education and support programs ensure your success, long after your purchase; while our commitment to quality means a true investment in your business for years to come.

You have a lot of options when it comes to your skin care technology; but if you're serious about investing in the best for your business and your clients' skin health, there's only one choice. Simply put, with our equipment in your hands, the unique marriage of our high tech and your high touch will make for one of the industry's very best facial services.

We hope to work together soon!

advantages of layering technologies

The concept of layering technology is natural, logical, and strategic. It incorporates the philosophy of using multiple synergetic and scientific disciplines together in one service to maximize the results naturally and expeditiously.

Having the ultimate array of technology at your fingertips allows you to create an infinite number of services, each unique to address specific concerns for each client. This uniqueness makes your services one of a kind both by method and result. This ideology is not only proven in regards to the results obtained with your client's skin, but also the growth and success that you can achieve with your business.

What is consistent about the skin is its inconsistency; no two individuals are the same. Each client must have his or her own specific professional recommendations, which in many cases may include as many as five technologies used in harmony. There is commonly a leader in the layering technique; one technology that is deemed as dominant to meet each client's objective. The other technologies are used as accents both before and after the dominant technology to enhance the results.
